

MOVING TO A NEW SCHOOL

By Kevin

Some kids get scared when they move to a new school, some are happy because they know they are going to meet other kid's and maybe get new friends and last but not least some kids are shy so they try not to make friends. At all!

Different Feelings

When some kids go to a new school for the first time, they get scared because they may get lost like I did the first day, and when they ask for directions a girl brought me to the four grade hallway. I felt like if I was a fourth grader.

When most kids go to a new school instead of being shy they try making friends like I did the first day even though I was kind of shy. If you're a new student experience getting lost, miss your old friends, and maybe have to wear a uniform like I had to in my old school.

How to make Friends

First of all people like it when you treat them with respect. If you see someone treating you without respect you should try not to hangout with them because they might cause you to make bad decisions especially if it's a school bully or a delinquent.

If your in a new student you would probably like to have a friend the first day but if I where you I would wait 2 or 3 days before you make up your mind on choosing a friend a friend so you can get to know them a little better, and they might not want to be your friend and maybe like I said in the fourth paragraph they could be a bully and he/she could just be cutting everyone some slack because it's the first day also he/she could be a delinquent but said person doesn't want to get in trouble the first day of school.
